Angels and Demons, summer 2026

Class 3 Review

- There is an invisible reality going on around us that most of us cannot see.
- Some people are gifted with the ability to see angels most (or all) of the time.

Elisha is an example. Prophets have a particular job for God that comes with many gifts. These include prophecy, the ability to perform miracles, the ability to hear from God directly, and God's particular response to their prayers.

• We have seen that angels (and of course God) can blind people or otherwise incapacitate people.

• Angels are purely spiritual and have no physicality. When people "see" angels they are seeing a vision that is either comforting (like the angel that appeared as a man to Daniel), or symbolic (like the complex Cherubim that appeared to Ezekiel).

• People can feel the presence of angels if they wish. This presence can be completely overwhelming. Even in a comforting human form, seeing an angel reduces most people to collapsing as if dead, or at least being unable to speak or move.

• Angels can impart the strength to stand and talk with them if needed.

• The Seraphim are the angels in the direct presence of God. The word 'seraph' is a type of snake that the Jews were bit by in the desert. Seraphim are flaming and have six wings. Two cover their feet out of respect, two cover their face, and two are used to move. Again, this is symbolic, they are not actually physical. They are praying the angelic hymn: "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts! All the earth is filled with his glory!"
